Security Enhancement and Maintenance Program

The Need

- Include the aggressor’s perspective in the security system
- Reconfigure the security system in response to changing threat levels
- Translate intelligence into security operations
- Balance human and technological security resources
- Maintain an alert and threat-oriented security system
- Develop and maintain a cost effective security system

The Service

- Red Teaming service to develop relevant, specific Aggressors’ Methods of Operations
- Red Teaming service to enhance and maintain the alertness of security personnel
- Ongoing procedural design and augmentation based on the Red Teaming findings
- On-call intelligence analysis service
- Review of security solutions from an aggressor’s perspective before purchase and integration of hardware or other products
- Conduct tabletop drills for security management
- Develop and deliver the organization’s security training programs

The Benefits

- Integration of security and technology in a cost effective fashion and in the context of threat
- Optimize security resources to the fullest; making the most from your security investment
- Hardening the protected environment and minimizing the potential for a criminal or terrorist act
- Providing a better security service for the organization, its employees and the people it serves

Why Chameleon?

- A unique know-how of terrorists and aggressors methods of operation
- A wealth of experience in security and law enforcement training
- Intelligence analysis and security engineering expertise
- Familiarity with a gamut of cutting edge threat mitigation solutions and security technologies
- Decades of experience in fighting terrorist worldwide